PHIL NEAL

WE were all desperately disappointed not to have played at all well against Huddersfield on Saturday. We were ever so fortunate to come out of it with a point, we know that, so we'll be going all out to make amends tonight.

We were able to reverse this fixture, which I'm sure won't have been able to go ahead down there in the current climate, thanks to the co-operation of our friends at Exeter. After coming up with the idea we had to seek the approval of Terry Cooper and I'm pleased to say that he readily agreed to the switch. The way the weather has been I think Terry was only too pleased to get a game in.

I just hope that we can make home advantage pay but I'm sure, for their part, Terry and his lads will be doing all they can to make it difficult for us.

A special feature of tonight's fixture is the return to Burnden of Trevor Morgan.

Trevor was a smashing servant to the club, a great character whose experience was invaluable. It's nice to see he has already made his mark on the scoresheet in his short spell at Exeter. I'm sure his contribution will be of great benefit to the Devon Club.

Since switching tonight's fixture was only possible because of the foresight our directors showed many years ago in installing under-soil heating, I think it's an appropriate time to praise the efforts of the back-room staff here who have put in a great deal of effort to provide the best possible conditions for football despite the weather. The heating did the trick but we had an awful lot more work to do to clear the terracing and the access points. Full credit must go to our groundsman Alan Whittle and his assistant Joe McGlynn as well as the YTS lads who made every effort to get Saturday's game on and have worked tirelessly since.

An update of today's opposition

EXETER CITY

This evening we extend a warm welcome to the players, officials and supporters of Exeter City. Last season's runaway Fourth Division Champions, the Grecians recovered the Third Division place they lost in 1984 and won widespread acclaim for their stylish and entertaining football.

Terry Cooper's side made St. James Park a fortress, winning 20 and drawing 3 of their home league games. Away from home they were less impressive, losing 13 times, but even so accumulated 89 points and 83 goals. Home attendances averaged 4,860, a rise of 2,216 on the previous season as the city responded to the club's most successful season in their 86 year history. Exciting cup runs to the fourth round of the Littlewoods Cup and third round of the F.A. Cup completed a most satisfying season and the financial rewards were increased considerably by the big money sale of defender Chris Vinnocombe to Glasgow Rangers.

Leading goalscorer Darren Rowbotham scored 30 goals in league and cup but sadly missed the run-in after suffering major damage to his knee ligaments in March. The former Plymouth forward, whose tally of 43 goals in 100 Exeter league games is a highly impressive one, has been sidelined all this season and Exeter have certainly missed his striking prowess.

After beginning life back in Division Three impressively with four wins and a draw from their first six games, Exeter then went eleven games before again recording a league victory, against Stoke. Subsequent home wins over Rotherham, Crewe and Mansfield have eased some of the pressure but even so Exeter currently lie in 17th position with 31 points from 27 games.

Early season away wins at Chester (2-1) and Mansfield (2-0) remain the club's only victories on their travels. Draws have been earned at Birmingham (1-1) and Shrewsbury (2-2) but Exeter have lost 9 away games, seven of them by a single goal. At St. James Park they have won six, drawn five and lost three games but with only one home defeat in their last 10 games are beginning to repeat last season's fine home form.

In cup football this season Exeter suffered first round knock-outs at the hands of Notts County in the Rumbelows Cup and Cambridge in the F.A. Cup but progressed past the preliminary round stage of the Leyland DAF and then beat Aldershot in a first round tie 1-0.

Exeter's side shows a number of changes from last term with regulars Clive Whitehead and Brian McDermott moving to Yeovil (where the former is now player-manager) and Danny Bailey an ever-present last season, joining Reading in a £50,000 transfer. New recruits include Peter Cawley from Southend, Gary Marshall from Scunthorpe, Gordon Hobson from Lincoln, Bristol City forward Murray Jones and former Burnden favourite Trevor Morgan.

Terry Cooper, manager at St. James Park since May 1988, has seen the club develop considerably during his time in charge. With some astute dealings in the transfer market he has built a talented and entertaining side while the club's youth policy is paying dividends with the emergence of some promising players. Capped 20 times by England during his Leeds United days, 46 year-old Cooper made over 500 league appearances in his distinguished playing career and has previous managerial experience at Bristol City and Bristol Rovers.

Football League. The 21 year-old was signed from Falmouth and was ever-present in the second half of last season's championship campaign. Having played in every match so far this term he has now made over 50 consecutive league appearances. Another ever-present so far is attacking defender Scott Hiley. The Plymouth born 22 year-old came up through the club's trainee ranks and earned a regular place two seasons ago. He has played in each of Exeter's last 88 league games. Goal-scoring defender Richard Dryden is the club's top marksman this season with seven goals in league and cup. The 21 year-old who hails from Stroud, joined Exeter from Bristol Rovers in March 1989 and has scored a highly respectable 13 league goals in a season and a half. Tom Kelly was signed from York City last March. The Bellshill-born defender began his league career with Hartlepool in 1985 and later spent three seasons with Torquay United. He is due to make his 200th league appearance this evening.

Plymouth-born central defender Shaun Taylor has been a great stalwart since joining the club from Bideford in December 1986. The 27 year-old has made over 180 league appearances for the Grecians and has been ever-present so far this season. Peter Cawley was signed from Southend last November after only a few months at Roots Hall. The 25 year-old London-born defender had played previously for Wimbledon and Bristol Rovers without gaining a regular first-team place and a loan spell at Fulham two seasons ago accounted for 5 of his 19 league appearances up to the start of this campaign. Barnsley born defender Jonathan Brown has also broken into the first team in recent weeks. The 24 year-old was signed from Northern Counties East side Denaby United in the summer after a trial period and made his league debut at Preston in October.

Midfielder Mark Cooper has missed only one game so far this season and shown an eye for goal on occasions. The son of the Exeter manager, the 22 year-old was a former trainee with Bristol City, and made his league debut last season when he also spent some time on loan to Southend. Paul Batty is a 27 year-old midfielder whose former clubs include Swindon and Chesterfield. Edgington born, he is now in his fifth season at St. James park and has chalked up 239 career league games since his league debut in 1982. Steve Neville is the assistant manager at the club, a role he combines with his playing duties. Signed initially from Southampton in 1978, Steve's eye-catching wing displays made him the darling of the St. James Park terraces. After an £80,000 transfer to Sheffield United in 1980 he returned to Exeter, initially on loan, in 1982 before joining Bristol City two years later. A member of the Bristol City side which beat the Wanderers 3-0 in the Freight Rover Trophy Final in 1986, he returned to Exeter in July 1988. The 33 year-old, who hails from Walthamstow, has scored 128 goals in 475 league games. 20 year-old Hull-born midfielder Ben Rowe was signed from Bristol City last season and has made a dozen league appearances for the club so far, while another former Bristol City player, forward Gary Marshall, was a recent recruit from Scunthorpe. Signed by Bristol City from Shepton Mallet in 1983, the 26 year-old spent five seasons at Ashton Gate before moving to Carlisle and has made around 150 league appearances.

Experienced striker Gordon Hobson was a summer signing from Lincoln City. The 33 year-old began his league career with the Imps back in 1977-78, later moving to Grimsby in 1985 and then to Southampton, for a £130,000 fee a year later. He re-joined Lincoln in September 1988 and has the impressive strike tally of 127 goals in 438 league games. One player who definitely needs no introduction is Trevor Morgan, or 'Sum'o' as he is known to his adoring public on the Burnden Terrace. Trevor, who joined Exeter earlier this season after playing in Hong Kong, also includes Bournemouth, Mansfield, Bristol City and Bristol Rovers among his former clubs. He also played for Exeter briefly in the mid 80's and in two seasons at Burnden scored 17 goals in 77 league games. In what proved to be his final game for the Wanderers he scored the fourth goal in the SVT Final against Torquay in 1989. Last season he was Colchester's top scorer with 12 goals, including their final goal in the Football League against Burnley, and in 408 league games has scored 133 goals. Murray Jones was a recent £30,000 signing from Bristol City, who he joined from Crystal Palace in the summer. A 26 year-old 6 ft 4 ins forward from Bexley, he was snapped up by Palace last season from Carshalton but failed to break into the Eagles' first-team. Paul Eshelby is a 20 year-old Sheffield born forward who joined Exeter last season, making his league debut at Wrexham a year ago. This season he has begun to feature more regularly in Terry Cooper's first-team plans.

LETTER FROM THE GULF

Dear Phil and Team,

Thanks a million for your letter and package that you sent Howie and myself, the poster and pennants now hold pride of place on the back door of our Warrior.

We are the envy of the rest of the Company, others that wrote to their teams have had sod all.

We have however one request and that is that you sign some better looking players, waking up in the dark and seeing them all is more frightening than dodging bullets. I suppose we could tape a poster to the outside, its sure to keep the ragheads away.

Losing to United was I'm sure a downer, but as least we know now that it's all out to clinch promotion. I hope that our front line is as good as yours if it is we'll have no worries about getting the right result.

Well once again, thanks for your reply. Keep winning; we can't wait to get back in the paddock to cheer you all on again.

All our best wishes,

Tina & Howie

ONE GAME, ONE TEAM, ONE VOICE

The Football League will this week make the first of a number of regional presentations to the County Football Associations and F.A. shareholders of The League's proposals for a Joint Board of Management to oversee the National game.

The proposals, which are contained in the League's extensive policy document 'One Game, One Team, One Voice', were originally presented to the F.A.'s Executive Committee in October. Following this series of regional meetings the subject is due to be considered by the full F.A. Council at its meeting on March 11th.

PRaise for Home Affairs Committee Report

There was a warm welcome from all quarters last week to the report published by the Home Affairs Select Committee on 'Policing Football Hooliganism', with The Football League describing it as a 'valuable and constructive report which could only complement the tremendous progress being made in the game.'

Football League Chief Executive Arthur Sandford commented: 'The Home Affairs Committee are to be complimented on producing a positive and thorough report which highlights the tremendous efforts being made by all those involved in the game to secure its future. I am also very encouraged to see that the members have accepted many of the issues raised by the Football League in its evidence to the Committee.'

On ice... Tony Philliskirk, the BEN/HB Electronics Player of the Month for January, receiving his bottle of Champagne from Mike Davis, Managing Director of HB Electronics

The report was also praised by Tom Pendry M.P., Chairman of the Parliamentary All-Party Football Committee, who described it as a 'vindication for football that will go down as a landmark in the game.'

Mr Sandford welcomed the Select Committee's rejection of the principle of a full economic charge for policing matches and urged discussion on the details of an equitable system of charging based on a percentage of gate receipts.

The Football League has always fully accepted the recommendations of the Taylor Report, but has, nonetheless, received representations from both clubs and supporters over the question of the removal of standing areas and the conversion of grounds to all-seater. 'If there is to be a review of this area...', commented Sandford, 'then we would ask that this is achieved quickly so that any changes can be incorporated by clubs in their forward planning.'

In addition the Chief Executive reiterated The League's support for the introduction of new legislation against offences identified by Lord Justice Taylor in his Final Report, namely chanting obscene or racist abuse, the throwing of missiles and pitch invasions.

Mr Sandford also pointed out that in the last twelve months League clubs had spent £17 million on ground safety and improvement work to provide better facilities for spectators. Clubs had also wholeheartedly endorsed increased involvement with their local communities. Since 1986, when The League and P.F.A. first established the 'Football in the Community' scheme, more than 70 clubs had introduced their own community projects.

BOLTON 1 HUDDERSFIELD 1

The Whites extended their current unbeaten league run to eighteen games with the home draw on Saturday.

Huddersfield took the lead early in the first half and it wasn't until the 65th minute that leading marksman Tony Philliskirk struck to draw the Wanderers level. The lads piled on the pressure late on but couldn't manage to break the Yorkshire sides' defences.

IN CONVERSATION

A look at some of the great soccer stars

"It's going to be a tough game at Bolton, but I'm looking forward to it", that's the view of former Wanderer's striker Trevor Morgan. Now in his second spell at Exeter, Trevor was keeping any team news close to his chest. All he would say is "I am in the squad", but added a cautious not, "we have players in the side who have good careers in football in front of them".

'Sumo', as he was nicknamed by Bolton fans, was one of Phil Neal's first signings and the much travelled striker revealed some of the highlights of his career were spent at Burnden Park. He said, "I had two good years and we gained promotion in the first season despite everyone saying we wouldn't go up, but we went up because we were the third best team in the league."

Trevor Morgan is well respected by fellow players and at one stage almost became Chairman of the Professional Footballers Association. "I was on the committee when Brian Talbot left" he explained. "But I didn't think I had enough knowledge in the complete workings of the P.F.A. and the job went to Garth Crooks."

Trevor compliments the move to switch Exeter's visit to this evening. "The weather would have prevented the game going ahead at our ground and it's the logical thing to do with Bolton having under-soil heating. We also know it's a good time for Bolton", he said.

'Sumo' last played in Lancashire just a few weeks ago at Bury and scored. If selected for tonight's encounter he will obviously try cooking something up against his old team mates. The evergreen striker left Bolton for Colchester United and then had a spell in Hong Kong. He envisaged that might have been the end of the road but then Exeter presented a new challenge to Trevor involving some coaching. He is well qualified to do the job and possesses a full coaching badge.

The dour training sessions at St. James Park are based on togetherness with every member taking part in the routines.

Trevor agrees this total involvement enhances morale within the Club. "It's a better club now" he added, "and this stems from the top right through. Lately we have also enjoyed better attendances." Come final whistle on match days and Trevor looks how Bolton have fared, "It's the first one, then I go through the rest of the clubs I've been at and that can take some time" he quipped.

One of those clubs was Bournemouth who ousted Manchester United from the F.A. Cup in 1984. Trevorsaid, "It was the shock of the day and turned out to be one of those games when everybody played out of their skin. United were the Cup holders and we beat them 2-0".

It's a long trek from Exeter and the 'Grecians' will be looking to salvage something from tonight's encounter. Hopefully the Bolton camp will be ready to prevent any shocks this time.

NEIL FISHER

CAREER RECORD

This evening we feature 20 year old Neil Fisher who could well be involved in the action to-night after being called into the first team squad by manager Phil Neal for Saturday's game against Huddersfield.

Neil has already come close to making his debut for the club this season when he was named substitute in the second round FA Cup tie at Chesterfield, "That was a great game with us winning 4-3 and I was warming up with our other sub Paul Comstive when Stuart Storer put in the winning goal", added Neil.

Neil is of course a graduate of the Wanderers Youth set up, coming through the Shool of Excellence Training Nights, serving his two year YTS apprenticeship and is now one of the young rising stars in the Wanderers reserve side, which is riding high in the second division of the Pontins League. His tricky left wing play has impressed the regulars who come down to watch the second team and its only been a question of time to when his performances have been rewarded with promotion to the first team squad.

Born and brought up in St. Helens, Neil attended Grange Park High School playing as a striker in the school team, he also represented the town team, as well as impressing the Wanderers sufficiently for them to sign him on schoolboy forms. In his first year at the club Neil was unfortunate enough to suffer a broken leg which hindered his progress somewhat but he overcame this injury which kept him out for over fifteen weeks by progressing well in his second year at the club. Youth Team Manager Steve Carroll and Phil Neal were impressed by Neil's workrate and willingness to learn the game, and rewarded him with a professional contract eighteen months ago. Since then he has continued to improve his game sufficiently to force himself into the first team reckoning.

Away from the game he likes nothing better than a round of golf at his local course Grange Neil Fisher lines up with the Wanderers Youth team at Mold in August 1988.

Park, playing off a very impressive 10 handicap while on Sundays he likes to support his local rugby league side St. Helens. "I often go to Knowsley Rd. to watch the Rugby, it's a great game, I even played a bit myself at school" added Neil. Musically, Neil likes Queen and he is hoping that this summer they will be performing concerts, "That's right I missed them the last time they toured so it would be great to see them live", said Neil.

Neil's parents Flo and Dougie follow his progress home and away while his brothers Dale, Martin and Ian watch him when they can, girlfriend Jillian, usually works on Saturday's but tries to come down when she can.

Returning to football action once again and young Neil's heroes in the game are John Barnes and the former Man Utd. winger Steve Coppell who is now manager of high flying Crystal Palace.

Neil rates his headed goal against Mansfield reserves last season as the best goal he has scored in his short career so far, while he is grateful to fellow professionals Phil Brown and Dean Crombie now of course at Lincoln, for their help and advice, not forgetting all the coaching staff at Burnden Park.

The Youth Policy at any football club is crucial to the success of a club especially with the escalating price of transfer fees, and when you see exciting young players coming through like Neil Fisher it really does give the future a rosy outlook.

RESERVES NEWS

A look at the club reserves

Due to the postponement of the promotion clash at Burnley last week the reserves were once again left kicking their heels in an attempt to extend their unbeaten record.

At present that unbeaten run stands at 13 games stretching back to last September when Burnley won 3-2 at Burnden. Indeed all 3 defeats incurred so far this term were in the opening weeks and all were at Burnden. The Wanderers' second string haven't lost away from home since last March when Barnsley hit two late goals to win 4-2 at Oakwell.

11 months without an away defeat is certainly a record to be proud of but this will be tested in the coming weeks with the next away trip being to promotion rivals Hull City.

Two seasons ago the Wanderers strung together an uneaten run of 16 games and missed out on promotion to Oldham on goal difference. This highlights the fact that whilst Barnsley and West Bromwich Albion appear to have taken the edge, the REVIEWING 1983...

Tonight we feature the programme from our recent F.A. Cup game at Manchester United. Priced at 80p it contained 32 pages on the A4 size format.

Well, what can you say about this matchday magazine? Full of colour photographs right through the issue, it really is a lovely programme. The most interesting features were 'The Wanderers Return' and 'The Match Trap' with the coverage of the Whites quite informative.

United have kept for a number of years a standard cover which even if not too striking, has its own unique originality. Because of the club's tremendous support, they have the scope to produce colourful programmes like this without having to watch for the overheads, so it does give them an advantage many other clubs would be envious of.

Overall view of the programme is very good. Excellent value for money and not a bad read with some superb colour photographs to compliment it.

SAFE HANS

A lighthearted look at football

The Fax machine spluttered into life—what was going on? It's late on Friday afternoon and what's this . . . Bolton v Exeter now at Burnden Park instead of St. James Park, Wednesday, 13th February. A quick rub of the eyes just in case—didn't help—and it was all systems go to produce a programme for tonight's match. Now some people might think that the programme magically appears on matchdays via a Paul Daniel strick, but I can assure them that this is not possible. That's right, it does have to be prepared and written even at such short notice. But don't get the wrong idea, if you're thinking I'm moaning a bit because I'm not. Fortunately for us, and a small number of other clubs, we have under-soil heating which virtually guarantees our fixtures, where as the vast majority of clubs had their games postponed on Saturday due to the big freeze up.

Our draw on Saturday maintained our unbeaten League run since October but overall I think we were all disappointed with the performance although you can't take away from Huddersfield for causing us problems. Tony Philliskirk once again popped up with another vital strike taking his tally to twenty, and wasn't it surprising not to see Tony's Rumbelows Cup goal featured in I.T.V.'s competition on Sunday afternoon when Elton Welsby lead us to believe that we were seeing the goals of the competition so far. Well we were mislead then because the tall blond striker's effort at Highfield Road was easily better than anything we saw featured on the match.

I don't suppose that any of our supporters had a successful weekend on the Pools, not with the Pools Panel sitting in judgement. The same goes for me, just how do they come to some of their conclusions, it beat me. The weekend before last Ipswich lost to Millwall at home by three goals to nil so low and behold they go and give Ipswich an away victory at the normally tough Bristol Rovers while Millwall fresh from that fine away victory are told that they have gone down at home to Charlton Athletic. Its a funny old game! It reminds me of a story told on the Sportsman's Evening circuit of the manager who got the sack after the Pools Panel had sat for seven consecutive Saturdays and on each occasion decided that his team had lost. It's a good job in reality that these games are eventually played otherwise you never know what may happen!

Tonight though we entertain our friends from Exeter and in particular Trevor Morgan who I believe is as fresh as ever. Exeter currently just below mid table have won just twice on their travels this season but nothing can be taken for granted and with each remaining game gaining in importance three points would be most welcome come quarter past nine.

Looking forward to Saturday and hopefully a gate of around 10,000 with the visit of second placed Grimsby, a game that gives us the opportunity of securing our second double of the season. Scott Green was the hero back in November at Blundell Park so he for one will be looking to add to that fine strike come weekend.

Enjoy the game tonight, and remember, it can only get warmer. The big question is, when?

CONNECTIONS

A look back at the recent past

BY

SIMON MARLAND

The Wanderers and Exeter clash tonight for only the 5th time in the Football League with Bolton defending an unbeaten record in the previous encounters.

A single goal has settled the issue in both games at Burnden, the highest scoring game between the two clubs coming at St. James' Park in October 1983.

Tony Caldwell headed Bolton in front in the 29th minute, converting a Steve Thompson cross and on the hour Caldwell struck his 11th goal of the season from a Jeff Chandler corner.

It looked like the Wanderers were heading for a top four spot in the Third Division until it all went wrong with seven minutes remaining. Gerry McElhinney's headed clearance accidentally struck Warren Joyce on the arm and the referee awarded a penalty which was struck home by Stan McEwan for Exeter's first goal in five home league games.

Two minutes from time McEwan made it 2-2 with a curling free kick from just outside the penalty area, the referee penalising Warren Joyce for a foul after first allowing Exeter the advantage.

Exeter made their first visit to Burnden in March 1984. The only goal came in the 77th minute when Wayne Foster ended a run of 16 games without scoring to secure the points against the bottom club. This was the Wanderers 100th Third Division goal at Burnden.

It was in the Fourth Division that the club's next met when City visited Burnden in October 1987. After defeating Carlisle 5-0 at the weekend, Wanderers supporters turned up to see a repeat but had to settle for an 85th minute winner from Mark Came after a Nicky Brookman corner.

The last game between the clubs took place at St. James'

Park in April 1988. City took the lead in the 7th minute when Brendon O'Connell scored from the penalty spot after Paul Hughes had pulled down Darren Rowbottom.

The equaliser came in the 56th minute when John Thomas rattled home his 23rd goal of the season to end a lean spell for the striker.

Our overall league record against Exeter is as follows:

	P	W	D	L	F	A
Home	2	2	0	0	2	0
Away	2	0	2	0	3	3
Total	4	2	2	0	5	3

PLAYED FOR BOTH CLUBS

Three times a cup winner with Bolton, goalkeeper Dick Pym began his football career as a centre forward with his hometown team of Topsham in Devon.

He subsequently found his true position and signed for Southern league Exeter City in 1911. He went on to make 186 consecutive appearances before breaking a collar bone in a cup tie against Watford.

Exeter first entered the Football League in 1920/21 as founder members of Division Three. Pym, who missed only 3 games in that inaugural season, came to the Wanderers eye thanks to former player Jack Feebury who was an everpresent for City that term.

In July 1921 Bolton paid a fee of £5,000 to bring Dick Pym to Burnden Park, a record amount for both clubs and for a goalkeeper at that time.

Whilst at Burnden he not only won three F.A. Cup winners medals in 1923, 1926 and 1929 without conceding a goal, but also three England caps and Football League representative honours.

Pym played his last game for Bolton in 1930 and then returned to the fishing industry in Topsham where he lived until his death in September 1988, aged 95, the last survivor of the 1923 cup winning team.

His Bolton record was as follows:

1938/39 SEASON

During the summer of 1938 there was again the usual crop of comings and goings from Burnden, the wheeling and dealing by the management, in an attempt to bring the championship to Burnden.

Goalkeeper Edward Goodall came from Hull City for a £3,000 fee, ex international and youngest ever league debutant Albert Geldard signed from Everton for £6,500 and Lawrence Hamlett, a full back, came from non league Congleton Town.

Departures were John Calder, who went to Barnsley and keeper Fred Swift who joined Birmingham leagueside Shrewsbury Town in an unusual arrangement.

Swift signed for Town without the Wanderers' consent but they agreed to let the keeper sign so long as Town gave Bolton first consideration on any of their players and that they kept Swifts registration for the football league.

The Wanderers were without the influential Ray Westwood for the opening seven league games due to injury. He returned to the side in a 4-1 home win over Middlesbrough scoring twice and seeing his side handily placed in 5th position.

On October 15th league leaders Everton visited Burnden attracting the grounds record league gate of 54,564. The Wanderers hero was Jack Roberts who hit a hat trick in a 4-2 win, the game being won with a scintillating display in the final twenty minutes.

After only two defeats in the opening ten games of the season things suddenly turned sour with the following eleven games not producing a win.

During this period the Wanderers twice came from behind to draw at Brentford, failed to defeat a ten man Grimsby side at Burnden, and Aston Villa, managed by ex-Wanderer Jas Hogan came to Burnden and won 2-1. Full back Danny Winter also shot a penalty wide at Sunderland that would have earned the points. The club slipped to 10th in the league but the miserable run came to an end on New Years Eve when Portsmouth were beaten 5-1 at Burnden.

The cup was also to bring misery but plenty of drama. Having been drawn away to Middlesbrough in the third round Alf Anderson came in for his first senior game for four months. In the last minute of the first half Boro were awarded a penalty but Fenton shot against the bar and the ball rebounded to safety. The game thus ended scoreless as did the replay at Burnden. It was Fenton however who had a final say, when in the second replay at Elland Road, he scored the only goal of the game two minutes from time.

Despite the cup set back league form returned with three consecutive wins including revenge over Middlesbrough when the Wanderers won 2-1 at Ayresome Park.

February and March saw George Hunt score in eight of the nine games, including one in a 2-1 win over bogey side Derby County at Burnden, to register Bolton's first win over them for ten years.

There was however a poor finale to the season, for after a smart 3-1 win at Villa, only one goal was scored in the final four games, three of which were at home.

The final home game attracted only 7168 excluding ticket holders despite the fact that neighbours Manchester United were the visitors.

Once again a season that had promised so much in the early stages had collapsed with the Wanderers finding themselves too much to do in the latter stages of the season to make up the lost ground.

HELPING THE GAME

A fine new stand - one of the many initiatives supported by Trust funds.

The Football Trust 1990 has been created to help the game at all levels and to assist clubs meet the requirements of Lord Justice Taylor's Final Report.

Safety and comfort for all spectators is the primary objective and substantial funds have been made available for the provision of seating at Football League grounds. At the same time the Trust's commitment to family and community initiatives will continue with the provision of more family enclosures, better toilet facilities, covered accommodation, artificial pitches for local use and the development of women's and junior football particularly through community programmes, plus a wide range of policing and crowd control measures.

Each year The Trust expects to receive £20 million from the reduction in Pool Betting Duty plus the £10 million continuing contribution from the Spotting-the-Ball competition organised by Littlewoods, Vernons and Zettlers. This money will be invested in projects which benefit football throughout the United Kingdom.
